Making Hey

for spoken voice, piano four hands, bass, percussion

The text for Making Hey is a gratuitously excellent piece of anonymous work that accompanied an email offering to increase my penis size or refinance my mortgage, I no longer remember which.

When Ben Boretz asked me for a piece to celebrate Jim Randall, I knew immediately I wanted this text to be part of the piece.

I have set the text (unchanged except for punctuation) to an adaptation of a two-piano piece called Making Hay, which I wrote in 1980 and dedicated to Jim at that time. This new piece starts out with the same student piece, but gradually clarifies and simplifies it in response to the bass and percussion line I have added all these years later.

I hope that the combination of elements will entertain my beloved Jim Randall, who has given me so much delight over the years.
